SALEM, January 6th, 1864

Election of Members of Congress.

Several of our exchanges are discussing and urging the necessity of Congressional legislation to fix the time of the election of Representatives, and to make it uniform in all the States. We hope it may be done, Mr Stevens of Pensylvania has proposed to introduce a bill for the purpose, and also making provision for allowing soldiers to vote. There can scarcely be a doubt of the power of Congress to prescribe the time of election, for the Constitution in Sec. 4, Art. 1, provides that "the times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but Congress may, at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators" This settles the question, and as the present system is full of irregularity, it ought to be remedied. Oregon elected its member of the present Congress in June, 1862; California waited till September '63. A majority of the States elect more than a year in advance of the regular meeting of Congress, but to this, we are not disposed to object, as in case of a special session, the States are ready with their representation. It is not unlikely that provision will be made for the election on the day of the Presidential election in the years when that occurs and on a corresponding day every intervening second year. This will suit many States, which now hold their general elections in November, and it is not unlikely that others will very readily adopt the same system, when Congress determines the rule, and makes the election of members on that day every other year, imperative in all the States.

It is probable that immediate action will be had upon the matter, so that in this State, we shall not be called upon to vote for a member of Congress in June. We shall not be sorry, because we have always been opposed to the practice which prevails here, our member is chosen four months earlier than those from any other State, and eighteen months prior to the time when he is expected to take his seat. In that period, many changes of popular sentiment frequently take place, and the idea that the House of Representatives is composed of members, fresh from the people, is exploded and lost sight of when they have not been endorsed for a year and a half, by those whom they are supposed to represent.

PLAIN AND EMPHATIC SENTIMENT.—The last number of the Rebellion Record, in the Diary of Events, has the following clear and succinct statement on the 1st of January, 1863

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States, issued his confirmatory proclamation, declaring the slaves in certain States and parts of States in rebellion to be henceforth and forever free

The great fact of history could not be more briefly and clearly stated.

A usually well posted correspondent of the Boston Herald, writing from the fleet off Charleston, under date of December 23, says.

I see by the papers that there is a good deal of uneasiness manifested North because the navy here is idle If the people at the North only knew the reason why we are idle they would stop grumbling In due season they will have a chance to rejoice over the doings of the navy before Charleston

The correspondent prophecies that if every thing works according to the plans now laid out, that Charleston will be in possession of the Unionists within sixty days

W. H. BROWNE, editor of Buchanan's organ when the Old Pub Func. was President, is now on the staff of Jeff Davis, with the rank of General That is a natural position of one of Buchanan's tools. Old Buck would be there himself if he were able, and had any red blood in his veins.

EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to December 31.

WASHINGTON December 21th—As the price of the President's message to Congress will probably not, in words, include the Indian Territorial arrangements are being made by the Indian Bureau to adjust the Indian difficulties growing out of certain Indians having gone in common cause with the rebels and to base the settlement on the principles asserted in the proclamations. Already the Chiefs have negotiated a treaty with this Government preserving the abolition of slavery among them and the restoration of the property being restored to the loyal Indians while they forfeited by their individual and unfriendly acts are contemplated with the Chiefs and Indians. The Council of the latter has petitioned for freeing their slaves but an application to that effect is required in the new treaty

WASHINGTON, Dec 20th Governor Morton who returned from the Army of the Potomac to-day says three out of four Indiana regiment will re-enlist

The quotas of several States are being arranged so as to avoid difficulty in future Each State will be officially informed of the number of men it is expected to raise, and the enforcement of the draft will not be under than the middle of January

The War Department is understood to be opposed to the proposition made in the Senate to permit the Governors of the free State to fill the requisition under the draft in the slave States

WASHINGTON, Dec 20th—An expedition composed of the Pennsylvania Cavalry Corps, under General Averill, consisting of two regiment of infantry one battery of six guns and 400 cavalry, numbering 1,100 in all under command of Col Geo D Wells, of the 34th Massachusetts Infantry has returned to Harper's Ferry without the loss of a man, after penetrating to Harrisonburg, Shenandoah valley, where it was ascertained that Averill had finished his work

After Wells had accomplished his diversion started by according to orders, he found himself confronted by 7,000 to 10,000 of Lee's forces with Gen. Rosser brigade and part of Stuart's cavalry in the rear at Port Royal By clever strategy and forced marches he escaped the former and avoided the latter, and reached the post with his men and munitions unharmed So desperate at one time seemed his chances of the expedition, that two rebels in Winchester offered to the that not a man would return Rebel prisoners were safely brought off

WASHINGTON, Dec 20—Chief Justice Taney, who has been dangerously ill for some days, is somewhat better to-day

Richmond papers of Dec 24th claim that the food prospects in Virginia are as favorable as could be desired, and from comparison with the consumption in the past two years they have assurances that there will be in the counties of the State, within the lines of the Confederacy, 150,000 cattle, 400,000 hogs and 250,000 sheep These resources are in the hands of the people, and they are urged to contribute liberally Notwithstanding this boast of large resources the Richmond market reports Bacon, $1 2 per pound, beef 75@85 cents per pound

The Enquirer, speaking of the exchange of prisoners, argues that the whole question now in dispute between the Commissioners is the treatment of negroes The Enquirer concedes that the law of Congress for delivering all negroes and their white officers captured in arms to the State authorities for trial under State laws was too wide in its terms and covered matters that is not within the province of one nation to dictate to another, and argues that no nation has a right to dictate to another what troops such nation may or may not employ, but that the right of retaliation for crimes committed still remains. The Enquirer also claims that the Federal government will not dare send negro troops into the field, but will keep them in guard depots and concludes as follows "Should they be sent into the field and be put in battle array, they will be taken prisoners. Our troops understand what to do in such cases If any negroes have been captured during the war as soldiers in the enemy's ranks we have not heard of them We do not think such a case has been reported The law is therefore useless"

NEW YORK, Dec 30th—The official report of the battle of Chickamauga is as follows killed 2 299 dangerously wounded 4,780, slightly wounded 10,500, missing 1 950.

Secretary Chase in his annual report asks Congress to repeal the provision directing him to make loans for one or forty years, and empower him instead to negotiate necessary loans on whatever terms he may deem best. This authority will undoubtedly be given, and the Secretary will have power to issue $300 000,000 more of the popular 7-30 loan Subscriptions to this loan should continue to come in faster than needed by the department. It is understood that permission will be given to agents to receive subscriptions, payable in installments as the amount shall be required—five per cent only to be required as a guarantee—thus saving to the Government a large amount of interest.

BRANDON, Dec. 24.—Guerrillas fired into a boat running down the river from Memphis to Hopefield, December 22d, killing the Captain and wounding another man severely They boarded the boat, which they scuttled and sunk. A force sent in pursuit succeeded in capturing six guerrillas and thirty or forty mules and horses When the Perry left gunboats were shelling the woods

Parties who have just arrived from the interior counties in West Tennessee represent great destitution among the people in that region In Haywood and Madison counties the best families could not afford any better meals than bread without butter and salt pork partly preserved in ashes. Forrest is levying contributions of provisions and forage on all farmers in the vicinity. The guerrillas under Payne, who have been committing depredations on the people in counties adjoining Memphis, have, it is reported, gathered up all their forces and crossed the Big Hatchie.

The Little Rock Democrat of December 12th says The city is improving Business is rapidly increasing In the State the Union cause is gaining ground rapidly and steadily. The Secessionists are laying down their arms and prejudices. Hundreds of volunteers are coming themselves in the ranks of the National defenders Better spirits and healthier tone prevails among the people

Colonel Merrill, who was sent some days ago in pursuit of the rebel forces south, sent a dispatch last night, stating that the enemy, 2,000 strong, were met two miles beyond Princeton. He killed 80, wounded 17, and took as prisoners three commissioned officers and 25 privates

A Federal foraging party in the rear of Merrill's advance captured 140 head of beef cattle. The rebels are all driven beyond the Ouachita Merrill was within fourteen miles of Camden in pursuit

FORT SMITH (Ark) Dec. 23—Colonel Williams, commanding at Rushville (Ark.), has secured for the Government, and is in possession of, some two hundred bales of rebel cotton He has, within reach of his camp, one hundred thousand bushels of corn, and is gathering a thousand bushels per day

CAIRO, Dec 25—The most recent news from Arkansas is as follows The advance of General Fagan, commanding the state troops is reported at or near Tulip, Dallas county Parson's brigade is at Fort Lisa on the Saline river, between Camden and Little Rock Jagan, whose head quarters were Camden, had ordered a concentration—doubtless with a view of a feint on Little Rock Ruby Smith reported at Washington, Hempstead county Three pieces are all on the Texas route, southwest of Little Rock

It was reported and generally believed that General Polk was to be sent to supersede Holmes, who seems to be still in the State There seems to be a sufficient quantity of corn, beef and pork in the rebel lines, but clothing supplies are almost entirely exhausted Many have been compelled to cut up carpets for dresses for children The rebel troops were armed with double barreled shot guns A few of them have Colt's revolvers, but no sabers

MEMPHIS, Dec 28—After suffering accidents at Summerville and Middleburg—particulars of which have not been received—Forrest divided his forces and a column, reported at four thousand strong, crossed Wolf river near Lafayette yesterday afternoon They destroyed several small culverts and the trestle work and the telegraph on the Memphis and Charleston road, between Moscow and Collierville, and have now gone South The other column, cavalry, and Morgan's brigade of mounted infantry, with them and is hoped will bring them to a point at Coldwater bridge over which they cross on the road was not destroyed The railroad is now being forward rapidly, and will be completed in a short time

CHATTANOOGA Dec 24—Nine additional were captured to-day between here and Harrison, 15 will probably be in the county on the line road to-night Stable fronts, Union flags, transcription, banquets and parades upon the glorious The Unionists are much elated Twenty-two deserters from Dalton came in yesterday The report that the Tennessee soldiers are deserting in squads of twenty to thirty

NEW YORK, Dec 26—The New Orleans Picayune Matters at Natchez remain quiet The rebels are mustering in the vicinity but have thus far refrained from active interference At the mouth of Red river a large fleet of gunboats has been assembled, and as there is now a depth of nine feet of water on the bar at that point probably we shall soon hear of these boats having control of the Red and Washita rivers doing all the damage to the enemy in their power

NEW ORLEANS Dec 25—At a late Convention of the Free State men, called for the purpose of electing delegates to the Convention of Unionists of the slave States, to be held in this city on the 4th of January, a resolution was offered declaring that the Union could be restored only by the abolition of slavery, and that the Convention should have the power to declare the same Before the resolution was voted upon the Convention adjourned to meet on the 4th of January, when it will be passed by an overwhelming majority

The Paris correspondent of the Times says The Archduke Maximilian's acceptance of the position offered to him by the Mexican deputation is considered out of the question in Austria, and no one thinks that the Archduke will go to Mexico unless he is first accepted by the whole country A proposition was formally made to the Archduke to that effect Prince Napoleon's visit to Miramar was for the purpose of urging that the Archduke should go to Mexico It is supposed that the Archduke Maximilian has decided upon accepting the crown

The Paris correspondent of the Herald says A victory was made the subject of various comments in the Paris journals The Moniteur says that the battle of Missionary Ridge was the most important one on the left of the Confederate line It is very doubtful whether the disorganized files of that unbroken army under Bragg can be induced to make another stand It does not seem clear that the main Confederate force has been defeated, but they have met with a serious disaster as they have retired in confusion

The London Times thinks that the attempt to create a counter revolution in Poland has failed, and that the Russian authorities are the more powerful for it

The London Times says that Duke Maximilian will not accept the Mexican throne and that Napoleon will have to cast about for some one else

THERE IS no other way to cure diseases but by first purifying the whole system so as to create a healthy circulation.

The first medical men of the age agree with us that no disease of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood Why many medical men are led to cure chronic diseases is, because the medicine used have not been such as will act beneficially on the blood.

The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public, and the many gallons and barrels supplied to the physicians, warrant us in saying that the last two years we have been more successful with our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing hopeless cases of chronic diseases than have any other remedies in the hands of physicians, or before the public.

It is now admitted that no combination known to the profession, acts so promptly up a diseases as our SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP.

SLOSH! SLOSH!—Within the range of acoustics there are no two sounds so inharmonious in their relations each to the other as the merry jingle, jingle' of the sleigh bells," and the "slosh, slosh' of the doomed boots, as the unincumbent wends his way through the slush-and-milk colored snow and water of the melting day' Yesterday was one of the days from which a traveler might date the ruin of his fine boots—if he had any—the passing away of the snow. No one who stood around much yesterday just for the sake of the thing, although a great many had the temerity to indulge in snowballing until they perspired freely, and called it fun. We have no profound a respect for the feet of late often exposed "mantle," to disturb its few remaining hours at the expense of our digits. Like many and many others the reader is acquainted with our respect for it yesterday was so profound that we shall feel a great deal better for it when there is no more to be seen. It is raining vigorously as we go to press, therefore the chances are that we shall feel better soon.

THE WEATHER.—According to an affidavit, which is attested, of the oldest inhabitant, winter "has done its worst" for us, and so soon as the rain washes away the residue of "nature's white garment spread on the lap of earth," we may expect a return of those muddy days wherein web feet most do feel at home in their experience and memory are not at fault, we shall there in winter seldom grows cold enough to see trees budding and flowers blooming as they were during Christmas week. The mercury has within the past week been down to 18, yesterday it was up to 39°,—and we are enabled thereby to report a very perceptible change in the atmosphere. Should the mercury persist in its upward tendencies at the same rate for the next few weeks, Lob will be a second hand overcoat he proposes to wear for a gutta-percha thermometer.

THE LAST EVENING.—At about half-past 8 o'clock, again last evening, a general alarm of fire was occasioned by the burning of a portion of the roof of Starrs' smoke house and bacon curing establishment, on Front street, between Oak and Pine. Multnomah Engine Company, No. 2, being the nearest to the conflagration, threw the first stream, and was followed in quick succession by the other companies of the city. Although the streets were in such disagreeable plight, every member rushed to his post and disregardful of everything except fighting fire, put forth his energies, and in a short time the flames were extinguished. The house contained five or six loads of bacon belonging to A. H. Johnson of the Empire Market, which was slightly damaged by the water.

"SEWING MACHINE WALTZ."—This is the title of an elegant piece of music, lately published, a copy of which has been laid on our table, with the compliments of J. W. J. Pier Esq. It is "dedicated to the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, by Wm. P. Johnson," San Francisco. We presume the piece was suggested by the harmony of one of those elegant machines when at work, under the soothing influence of which the most unruly babies become quiet, and the more [illegible] go to sleep. The music bids fair to be very popular.

WEALD'S PRAYER MEETING.—The custom inaugurated several years since by the Presbyterians, of devoting the evenings of the first week in each year to prayer and Christian devotion, is still observed throughout the country generally. The vestry of the Congregational church in this city has been and continues to be every evening occupied for the purpose, and we are informed that a very pleasant interest attaches to the meetings. They are to continue through this week, and longer if desirable. All are freely invited to attend, and spend an hour in contemplation of themes often forgotten in the great world-scramble for gold and green-backs.

BARK INDUSTRY.—The weather having so moderated as to render free navigation of the Columbia downward in a day or two very probable Capt. Corno will complete loading his vessel to day, and get all ready to be towed down to morrow or next day. Having received the last of fruit yesterday, the vessel awaits only about a thousand boxes more.

INDUSTRIOUS.—We observe that during the leisure days of "laying up," the crew of the bark Industry have converted one of Richards & McCraken's warehouses into a temporary sail loft, in which to put in serviceable condition a spare suit of sails, and get ready to "hold Bureau" salutation after crossing into the "Pacific."

F. M. L. A. MEETING TO-NIGHT.—It will be seen, by reference to special notice in another column, that a meeting of subscribers to the Portland Mercantile Library Association is called for this evening at 7 o'clock, in the United States Court Room, for the transaction of such business as may come before them

FOR VANCOUVER.—We are informed by Mr Heap, engineer, that the steamer Vancouver, Capt. Turnbull, will essay a trip to Vancouver to day, through with no great expectations of success The steamer Pioneer steamed off Lewis river late yesterday afternoon, probably to take a view of things, and is expected back this morning

FREIGHTER FOR OREGON CITY.—Considerable freighting is now carried on between this city and the Willamette Valley. We were told last evening that the freight then already for shipment on board the steamer Oregon City exceeded her carrying capacity.

BALSAM

AND

THERE is no other way to cure disease but by first purifying the whole system so as to create a healthy circulation.

The first medical men of the age agree with us, that no disease of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood. Why many medicines have failed to cure chronic diseases is, because the medicines used have not been such as will act beneficially on the blood.

The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public, and the many gallons and barrels supplied to the physicians, warrant us in saying that the last two years we have been more successful with our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing Hopeless cases of chronic diseases than have any other remedies in the hands of physicians, or before the public.

It is now admitted that no combination known to the profession, acts so promptly upon disease as our SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP.

LOCAL SLOSH.—Within the range of accurate observation there are no two sounds so inharmonious and unsympathetic in their relations each to the other as the "jingle, jingle" of the sleigh bells, and the "slosh, slosh" of the doomed boots of the pedestrian who wends his way through the half-and-milk colored snow and water of the present day. Yesterday was one of the days of days which a traveler might date the ruin of his fine boots—if he had any—by passing away of the snow. No one seemed much yesterday just for the sake of the thing, although a great many had the propensity to indulge in snowballing until they perspired freely, and called it fun. We have a profound respect for the chief of late office "mantle," to disturb its few remaining rays at the expense of our digits. Like many others the reader is acquainted with our respect for it yesterday was so pronounced that we shall feel a great deal better when there's no more to be seen. It is raining furiously as we go to press, therefore the chances are that we shall feel better soon.

WEATHER.—According to an old adage quoted, of the oldest inhabitant, winter "comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb," for us and so soon as the latter washes away the residue of "nature's" last garment spread on the lap of earth, we expect a return of those muddy days wherein web feet most do feel at home whose presence and memory are not at fault, while here in winter seldom grows cold enough, and we may therefore soon expect to see budding and flowers blooming as they were during Christmas week. The mercury has within the past week been down as low as 10° yesterday it was up to 39°,—and we are called thereby to report a very perceptible change in the atmosphere. Should the barometer in its upward tendencies at the same rate for the next few weeks, Lob Winstead-hand overcoat he proposes to wear a gutta-percha thermometer.

LAST EVENING — At about half past seven o'clock, again last evening, a general alarm of fire was occasioned by the burning down of the roof of Starrs' smoke house and curing establishment, on Front street between Oak and Pine. Multnomah Fire Company, No 2, being the nearest to the conflagration, threw the first stream, and followed in quick succession by the other companies of the city. Although the streets were in such disagreeable plight, every member proceeded to his post and disregardful of everything except fighting fire, put forth his energies, and in a short time the flames were extinguished. The house contained five hundreds of bacon belonging to A. H. Johnson of the Empire Market, which was slightly damaged by the water.

"SEWING MACHINE WALTZ"—This is the title of an elegant piece of music, lately published, a copy of which has been laid on our table with the compliments of J. W. J. Pierson. It is "dedicated to the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, by Wm. P. Hall," San Francisco. We presume the honor was suggested by the harmony of one of these elegant machines when at work, and the soothing influence of which the most cross babies become quiet, and the more readily go to sleep. The music bids fair to be very popular.

CHILD'S PRAYER MEETING — The custom inaugurated several years since by the Presbyterians, of devoting the evenings of the first week in each year to prayer and Christian devotion, is still observed throughout the country generally. The vestry of the Congregational church in this city has been and continues to be every evening occupied for the purpose, and we are informed that a very pleasant interest attaches to the meetings. They are to continue through this week, and longer if desirable. All are freely invited to attend, and spend an hour in contemplation of themes often forgotten in the great world scramble for gold and green backs.

MARK INDUSTRY.—The weather having so moderated as to render free navigation of the Columbia downward in a day or two very probable, Capt. Corno will complete loading his vessel to-day, and get all ready to be towed down to-morrow or next day. Having received a load of fruit yesterday, the vessel awaits about a thousand boxes more.

INDUSTRY—OUR — We observe that during these closure days of "laying up" the crew of Mark Industry have converted one of Richard McCraken's warehouses into a temporary mill loft, in which to put in serviceable condition a spare suit of sails, and get ready for old Boreas' salutation after crossing into the Pacific.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING TO-NIGHT.—It will be seen, by reference to special notice in another column, that a meeting of subscribers to the Portland Mercantile Library Association is called for this evening at 7 o'clock, in the United States Court Room, for the transaction of such business as may come before it.

THE VANCOUVER.—We are informed by Mr. Wright, engineer, that the steamer Vancouver, Capt. Turnbull, will essay a trip to Vancouver to-day, though with no great expectations of success. The steamer Pioneer steamed off the river late yesterday afternoon probably to take a view of things, and is expected back this morning.

FREIGHT FOR OREGON CITY.—Considerable freight is now carried on between this city and the Willamette Valley. We were told this morning that the freight then already for the passenger's boat to Oregon City exceeded the carrying capacity.

LOB MONTGOMERY.—The steamer Jacob Couch, Capt. Holman, will leave this morning with the mails, and make an attempt to go through. It is hardly probable that the Columbia is navigable for steamboats, and it may be that the steamer will take her regular mail to Astoria.

THE NEW STEAMER.—It is hardly probable that the steamer left San Francisco before yesterday, even if she has yet sailed. If she arrives by Saturday we think our citizens generally will be very well satisfied.

LATCH KEY LOST.—A brass latch key was picked up at the corner of Front and Alder streets, has been left at this office.

REPAIRING.—The steamer Julia has been undergoing some repairs lately, but we believe for any duty to which she may be assigned.

Beth Israel School

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Knowing the great interest you take in all that pertains to the good and welfare of our State and City, and particularly in the advancement of the cause of learning and education, I tender you this statement of an examination of the scholars of the Beth Israel School of this City, held on last Friday, the 8th inst. at the school house on Sixth street.

Having never before visited the school, we went expecting to meet (from what little we had heard) a mere elementary one degree. But we were most agreeably disappointed. Some forty children of both sexes were present, ranging from 5 to 14 years in age. As we entered a grammar class was undergoing the ordeal of examination by their teacher, and it must certainly be said the little ones evidenced a knowledge of syntax and orthography that would have done honor to scholars older than they. Lindley Murray would have smiled his blandest, could he have been in that school room and heard the children solve the mystery of nouns, verbs and adverbs, explain the why and wherefore of every part of speech, decline and conjugate with surprising readiness.

In reading all and each were excellent—most of them, blessed with good, clear voices, read both prose and verse with inflection so perfect, modulating their tones so judiciously as to charm and please all present.

In arithmetic the examinations had been conducted during the morning when it was our misfortune to have been absent—but we are assured by a friend that the scholars are as good at figures as they are perfect in their other studies. With the exception of those of one pupil the studies are not of a very advanced nature, being confined to the simpler branches—yet do the results show that children of very tender years have attained a degree of excellence really wonderful, and reflecting alike great credit upon teachers and pupils. We saw little girls and boys rogue fish with the smiles five summers had passed upon their cheeks, ranged side by side, spelling their "ab—abs" and from these up to a student in algebra—through reading, orthography, grammar, arithmetic and writing each and every one did exceedingly well.

Each of the scholars had written his name upon a slip of paper, (of course in his or her best)—these specimens with like ones written at the previous quarter, were pasted on a tablet, to show at the same time the quality of penmanship, and contrast the progress between the past and present.

A class numbering some twenty five was next put under probation in the Hebrew. Prose compositions and prayers in the Hebrew tongue, the class had not previously studied, were offered them for translation—and with very few exceptions they analyzed and translated this hard task skillfully and promptly. This language, the mastery of which is synonymous with difficulty, seemed to offer but little trouble to these youthful students. Ready in translation, they were perfect in the syntax of the language—quick to form sentences, they unfailing explained and gave the rules. Much as we admired the common excellence of all the school it must be granted the Hebrew class deserved high praise. To acquire even sufficient knowledge of this language for devotional purposes demands earnest application on the part of the student—whilst the teacher, who, with pupils as young as these, succeeds but in part as well as the gentleman who instructs this class, may well deserve the applause of all—parent, friend and stranger.

With these exercises the afternoon quickly wore away, we stopped however, long enough to hear some very fair singing, and several youthful orators display their skill in declamation. We could point out some who were deserving of marked applause for their excellent delivery, but this would require more space in your paper and scarcely do justice to the rest of the scholars, who, in this department were all praiseworthy.

Prizes were next awarded, and to prove the merit of the scholars—nearly every one was a recipient. We cannot close this without briefly thanking the teachers, Rev. Dr. Eckman, Mr. Boynton, Miss Auberland the Rev. Mr. Bories for the very delightful afternoon spent with them and their pupils—and we do but re echo the sentiments of all the visitors in proclaiming this school an ornament to our city and a very useful institution. To the teachers who are manifestly painstaking and persevering, we offer our congratulations, and hope they may go on in the cause they now so successfully work.

To The Public.

I WOULD HEREBY CALL THE ATTENTION of the public to the fact that on the first of May next they will be called upon by the United States Assessors to make statement of income for the year 1863 and as the year 1863 is just ended it would be well for every one to make up their accounts for said year while every thing is fresh in their memory and be ready to make statement when called upon by the Assessor.

Under the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal revenue you are only allowed to deduct expenses for repairs etc. from the amount received from the same property on which such expenditure have been made. For instance—a person receives $500 for rents he can take off of that amount all that is necessary to repair such property from which rents were derived, the same rule applies to steam boats, saw mills and other like property, but all monies derived from interest on notes, Bonds, Mortgages and from dividends must be returned as Income although a portion or the whole of it has been expended in repairing buildings, steam boats etc.

If persons will prepare their accounts and statements showing amounts received and the source from whence derived, amount expended and for what purpose, then with the forms and blanks which will be furnished them by the Assessor a correct return can be made.

A Near Sighted Old Maid

I am near sighted, and an old maid
Almost any one would admit that one of these misfortunes alone was sufficient for any individual but the vials of wrath were upstepped above my defenseless head

I am near sighted and I hate boarding-houses—well, no matter how old No woman gets so old as to lose all hope they say and I am inclined to believe that is true

I have not been near sighted always You fortunate people who have eyes and can see to read your signboards on the street and can recognize your friends without the necessity of crossing over to be sure it is the right one know nothing of the peculiar trials of a near sighted person Nothing at all and no pen could picture them to you—were it ever so graphic

All through my girlhood I was engaged in picking up pins and needles which proved to be straws bowing to people I had never seen before upsetting invisible cups and baskets and hurrying by my best friends, never dreaming of their propinquity

I shook hands with the governor of the State once under the impression that it was my uncle Jefferson and astonished him beyond measure by inquiring how aunt Polly's rheumatism was, and if she had good luck with her last boiling of soft soap

I have searched half the day to some particular store or shop, which I had passed and re-passed twenty times without being able to read the sign

Nature had endowed me with a good voice and I was needed to sing in our choir—but goodness! I was so near sighted that I could not see to read the music unless I held the book close to my eyes, and then the whole congregation would ignore the singing and whisper loud enough for every one to hear—how near sighted Agnes Graymond is!

I could not bear the notoriety, so I left the choir

If I made an appointment anywhere I was invariably an hour too late, or as much too early because if it had been to have saved the life I could not have told the time by the town clock

I never dared to go out nights—not on account of ghosts for I might have gone directly through a ghost without ever seeing it—but because I was liable to dash my brains out against any lamp post that happened to be standing in the way

My friends deserted me I used to pass them blindly by, and once I ran away from my own father thinking him a pickpocket

I stumbled over poor Mr Blake my mother's most reverend minister, as I was coming down the stairs—never seeing him till I heard the noise of his fall

Once I went into a strange church, and there being no sexton, I very gravely took my seat with the deacons greatly to the scandal of the congregation I was not to blame the church was dark and I certainly took the head of the tallest deacon for a woman's white bonnet and veil

At last I fell in love Perhaps you may wonder how I came near enough to any man to fall in love with him, this Thornwell-Creighton was my music teacher and I had to sit near in order to see the notes, you know

Mr Creighton was a lawyer in good practice, a man of wealth and influence At the urgent solicitations of my father he consented to give me instructions—and—and the result was just what might have been anticipated

At the end of three weeks we were betrothed

Mr Creighton was handsome, and intelligent, and kind hearted, but he had one terrible fault—he was jealous

I used to drive him nearly frantic by my attentions to other men, as he called my loling my head this way and that to find who I should speak to, and who I should ignore

When we had been two months betrothed Mr Creighton was called to New York on business We had a very affectionate parting and after he had gone time never dragged on so slowly He went away on Thursday and would return on the ensuing Wednesday

Wednesday arrived at last The train from New York was due at 10 A M, and by the time the time the clock struck the hour I was in the front hall waiting for him I had dressed myself in his favorite colors—and was confident of making a good impression

He came even before I expected him I saw him coming up the street at a rapid pace—I opened the door and stood on the threshold ready to greet him He ran up the steps—I rushed forward and threw myself into his arms crying out—

"Oh! I am so rejoiced to see you!" and then I flung my arms around his neck and kissed him! Kissed him more than once I am afraid

He did not speak, but hugged me with considerable empressment Just then there was a wild shriek from some one at the gate, and a woman rushed up the step and commenced beating me over the head with a market basket The basket contained a turkey, some potatoes, lettuces, and packages of tea and sugar And about my devoted head they all fell in harsh profusion

"I'll learn you to kiss other women's husbands in broad day light!" yelled the woman—slapping me in the face with the unfortunate turkey—"ain't you satisfied with one sweetheart, that you must be a seducing of my husband?"

I looked up in the face of the gentleman I had been greeting and goodness me! it was the face of an entire stranger! And at the same moment I met the eyes of Mr Creighton looking over the stranger's shoulder He was as black as a thundercloud!

"Agnes!" said he I have seen all Allow me to bid you farewell!"

"Thornwell!" I cried O, Thornwell! it was all a mistake! I did not know this man—I am innocent—I—"

"Agnes, I saw for myself," he said coldly "Good bye"

He turned and left me I apologized as well as I could to the strange gentleman who proved to be the soul man apologized to his wife, went up to my chamber and had a good cry

I have never met Mr Creighton since save in company He is married to an amiable woman who is not near sighted

Since then I have had offers but have thought best to decline I am afraid of another mistake with some other woman's husband So I end as I began—I am near sighted and an old maid

Sambo lost a dog, the tail of which he finally found and recognized lying in the street in front of a sausage shop, upon which the darkey exclaimed as he pointed to certain well filled skins hanging in the window while he held up Carlo's tail, "I won't say nuffin agin dat ere sausage shop, but I know whar my dog is!"

As people usually sprinkle the floors before they sweep them says an old bachelor so some ladies sprinkle their husbands with tears in order that they may sweep the cash out of their pockets

The meanest man in the world is living in New Jersey In helping him out of the river once a man tore the collar of his coat The next day he sued him for assault and battery

INDUCED by the extensive use and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters many pretended remedies have been introduced upon the credulity of the invalid to extensively advertised as to create the impression that they were the Bitters with little merit or virtue, and by flooding the country with cheap drugs and chemicals, and by the use of large and attractive bottles, and big testimonials, have induced druggists to keep them in preference to the Bitters, which they will find to be the only article that will give satisfaction, and the only one that will not be returned on their hands. Hoofland's German Bitters is not a drink, but a medicine, carefully prepared from Roots, Herbs and Barks, which are to be found in our valuable forests, each one of which is recognized by the medical faculty as containing the most valuable medicinal properties, and extracted therefrom by the use of pure old Rye Whiskey only, without the aid of drugs or chemicals, and forms a preparation which for purity, strength and efficacy cannot be excelled by any other in the world, as it contains all the curative properties of the roots, herbs and barks, in a concentrated form.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial, and their wonderful cures have made them the most popular remedy of the present day. They have received the recommendation of the most eminent

PHYSICIANS
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the benefits to be derived from their use, and to the wonderful medicinal virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev J Newton Brown D D Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge

Although not disposed to favor or recommend patent medicines generally, the high character of the ingredients of which Hoofland's German Bitters is compounded, and the well known reputation of Dr Jackson, of this city, as a physician and chemist, induce me to depart from my usual custom in this instance. I have no doubt that many sufferers may be restored to health by the use of this valuable medicine. I am induced to say this from having been entirely relieved from a severe and painful disease, after many other remedies had failed to give me relief, by the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr C M Jackson, at this city, and from the fact that I have recommended them to many friends, under the impression that they were a reliable medicine. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq for the removal of the prejudice by which I was prevented for encouragement not to try them, when suffering from a severe and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters restored the digestion, which was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for years before and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them. J BENTON SMITH

PHILADELPHIA June 23 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters put up in quart bottles common whiskey or common rum costing from 20 to 25 cents per gallon the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander seed. This class of Bitters has caused, and is the cause so long as they can be sold, hundreds to die of the drunkard. By their use the appetite is kept constantly under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up and as a result of it we all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle of Hoofland's German Bitters and with it Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will be found to possess virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and at less than half the cost, and have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters when taken with a good article of Liquor as a tonic less pure than these inferior preparations will contain.
